The Special Warriors Leaders Talk Show

I got really bored and I really love warriors so I am making a funny story.

Here's the story line-

The four leaders of the clans (Firestar, Onestar, Leopardstar and Blackstar) got bored one day and decided to make a talk show. They invite random warriors, queens, deputies and medcine cats each day. While the cats of Starclan and the Dark Forest watch on TV.

It is a completly random story.

Prologue

Firestar- I'm bored!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Let's see how my fellow leaders are Firestar got up and walked into Windclan.

Firestar- Yo Onestar!!!!!!!!!! Get yo butt down here!!!!!!!!

Onestar- What do you need?

Firestar- I'm bored

Onestar- And you want me to do what about that?

Firestar- Fix it!!!!!!!!!

Onestar- (Sighs) Fine lets go to Riverclan

Ashfoot- Sound interesting, lets start

Onestar- Okay Leopardstar will choose

Leopardstar- I picked Tallstar

In Starclan

Tallstar-(Mouth wide open, staring at the TV screen in shock) She said what!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Back to the Talk Show

Onestar- Lets read the one shot

Tallstar sighed and pulled himself off the ground. He was ageing and soon he would join Starclan. He just wished he could tell a certain She-Cat how he felt about her. He glanced across the clearing at Ashfoot. She was talking to her son Crowpaw. She was a gorgeuos she-cat. Now was the time to tell Ashfoot how he felt about her. He was losing strenght and energy. He had to do it now.

"Ashfoot, may I please speak to you?"

"Of course" the she-cat got up and followed her leader to a quiet spot.

"Ashfoot as you know I'm losign energy fast-"

"Tallstar don't talk like that"

"It's the truth, but that's not what I want to talk about"

"Then what is?"

"I love you Ashfoot" The she-cat was caught off guard

"Tallstar really?"

"Yes I just needed to tell you that before I join Starclan" Tallstar leaned over and gave her a lick on the muzzle befor egetting up and walking away. He would always love Ashfoot, even in Starclan.

(All rights go to me, I couldn't find any fanfiction about them so I made it up myself)

In Starclan

All cats (Minus Tallstar)- (Laughing so hard they all fell off the couch) You and Ashfoot!!!!!!!!!!

Tallstar- What in the name of Windclan was that!!!!!!!!!!

Blackstar fangirls- WHAT!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

food.

"Yes." he meowed looking down.

"I will stay here with you and maybe we could...be mates." It was Russetfur's turn to shuffle her paws.

"Oh yes!" Blackstar meowed. "That's one of the reasons I made you deputy." he admitted reluctantly.

"Really?" she asked a little surprised that he liked her that long.

"Yeah." he meowed embarrassed.

"Cats of ShadowClan, today I bring news of who is my mate!" Blackstar meowed from the highbranch. All the she-cats looked at him hopefully. "Russetfur." he meowed. Russetfur looked proudly at her clan mates and gave the she-cats a sympathetic glance. Tallpoppy stared at Blackstar, most hurt of all the she-cats. Meanwhile Smokefoot stared at Russetfur the same way.

"BLACKSTAR!" the she-cats cried but you could hear Tallpoppy loudest of all.

"Russetfur!" the toms cried and you could hear Smokefoot loudest of all. The toms and she-cats that were mates stared at each other in disbelief and argued that they were cheating on each other.

"ShadowClan!" Nobody paid attention. "SHADOWCLAN!" Blackstar hissed. This time everybody paid attention. "This is nothing to cry about, life goes on a usual for you." Blackstar meowed calming his clan. All the clan began crying again and so he sighed and went back in his den with his new mate, Russetfur.

Leopardstar- Aw!!! How sweet, now lets move on to our oneshot for you, Blackstar

Blackstar- (Smirking) I pick Firestar

Firestar- WHAT THE MOUSE TAILS!!!

mewed. "Ever since Stonefur revealed the truth about our parentage, RiverClan doesn't trust us anymore. Leopardstar's been keeping her eye on us, Stonefur can't even get the apprentices to listen to him half the time, some of our Clanmates glare at us, and some won't even talk to us. On top of that, Leopardstar has let ShadowClan warriors into our camp!"

"What?" Firestar yowled in outrage. "Can she even do that?"

Mistyfoot shrugged. "She says that joining together with ShadowClan will make us stronger. And my mate, Blackclaw..." she broke off.

"What about Blackclaw?" Firestar growled angrily, more angry about Blackclaw than was necessary.

" He agrees with her, and I don't. We disagree about everything nowadays. It seems like he doesn't want anything to do with me anymore," Mistyfoot mewed bitterly. "After Leopardstar told the Clan, we went for a walk and he told me that he couldn't trust me anymore, that he wanted a "loyal" mate."

"But you are loyal!" Firestar hissed, "and any cat that says otherwise is a mousebrain." Inside, he was seething with rage. He wanted nothing more than to rip Blackclaw's fur off. Didn't he realize how lucky he was to have Mistyfoot as a mate? Didn't he realize that Firestar would do anything to be in his place? Of course he didn't.

"I told him that it was fine with me," Mistyfoot spat defiantly. "I told him that it was his loss, not mine."

"Good for you," Firestar murmured, reaching forward to lick the top of her head. Suddenly, he found that he could not stop. Purring, he continued to lick her with fierce love. At first, Mistyfoot drew back startled, then relaxed and leaned into his muscular, flame-colored body. Their tails twined, and the two cats nuzzled each other tenderly while purring in contentment.

"Blackclaw's got bees in his brain," Firestar whispered in her ear. Mistyfoot glanced at him, then rasped her tongue against his cheek. Firestar closed his eyes, lost in the moment.

"I love you Mistyfoot," Firestar murmured, cheek pressed against hers. Mistyfoot purred, rubbing her head under his chin.

"I love you too Firestar," Mistyfoot purred back. "I've loved you for a long time now."

Rubbing heads again, the two cats twined their bodies, lost in each other.

Back at the Talk Show

Firestar- Okay here is the oneshot

Brambleclaw's POV

Dark Forest warriors from the Place of no Stars were closing in, and I was the only one who could save the Clans. As Tigerstar's claws pierced Firestar's throat, I knew what I had to do, and prayed to StarClan for forgiveness and strength. I lashed out at Tigerstar with my fore claws, snarling, hissing, and biting.

"Tigertsar, NO!" I yowled.

Tigerstar turned as my claws sunk in his throat.

"Traitor! You weak kittypet! You were always a mouse brain, my son!" Tigerstar claws at my face feebly, but I dodge fast enough. Just not enough as Hawkfrost barrels into me.

"Now I get my revenge!" Hawkfrost snarls.

"Avenge…me…us…my son…" Tigerstar rasps

Hawkfrost claws my back and shoulders, but I keep clawing at his belly until I'm covered in blood, our blood, the blood of Tigerstar, Hawkfrost, and myself. Consciousness fades in and out as Dark Forest cats yowl and retreat. Then I hear her, my love, my beautiful Feathertail.

"Feathertail…I love you. Graystripe should see you, and your brother, Stormfur. Where am i? Realizing I am not in the hollow I ask "Am I dead, Feathertail?"

"Yes, my dear, I'm so sorry!" She presses her soft light gray fur against mine. Our tabby pelts match each other's, except for my pelt is brown with black tabby stripes, and hers is light gray with silver stripes. And our eyes, mine amber-orange, hers blue like water. But our hearts beat for each other and our Clans, our families. I look at my to-be mate, and smile, knowing that I am safe with the cat I love, and my mother.

Feathertail's POV

I loved Brambleclaw, but I didn't want him to die, not like this. When he breathed his last breathes, I fetched him, happy to see my dear mate again. Thinking of Stormfur and Brook, I think of how my life could have been with Brambleclaw at my side. When I joined StarClan, my mother, Silverstream, showed me of our kits, me and Brambleclaw's. Our first one was me except for its black tabby stripes; the last one was a brown one with silver stripes and amber eyes. In my mind, I named them Pebblekit and Dustkit. I felt almost happy until my family and friends joined me, but Brambleclaw made the wait bearable, we stay in the skies watching over our Clans together forever.

Firestar- Okay bye Brambleclaw thank you for coming

"Mothwing I heard you called for my help" Leafpool said walking in. The tabby sat down a woried expression crossed over her face. "What's wrong?"

"They all just got sick, I don't know what it is. At first I thought Greencough or Whitecough but it's even worse then that!!! I don't know what to do!!! Help me"

"Calm down Mothwing you don't want to stress yourself, I will help"

Leafpool got up and walked over to where the herbs were. "Now lets see" I couldn't help burt admire how calm she is. She always knows what to do. Leafpool walked over to one of the sick cats. She the prodded an elder, Heavystep, and he groaned. "Hmm...this is serious"

"I know, I can't tell what the sickness is though"

"I don't know either but it's very serious" Leafpool is like the sister I never had. She's my best friend. And she always will be.

Brambleclaw- Ugh!!!!!!

Leafpool- Hi

Firestar- Hello sweetie

Leafpool- Hi dad!!!! Hi other leaders!!!!!!!

Firestar- Well I already know everything about you so lets go to the one shot

Blackstar- I choose Hawkfrost

Firestar- YOU DEMON OF A CAT!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! (Lunges at Blackstar)

Onestar- Oh great to the one shot

Hawkfrost suddenly lunged, catching Leafpool off guard and causing the two to tumble down a small hill that neither noticed till now. Hawkfrost shook his head to rid of the small dizziness. The tom looked down, realizing he was on top of the medicine cat, her golden suns widened in surprise. Without his knowledge, his tail skimmed her flank, and she shuddered.

In the blink of an eye, Leafpool suddenly shoved him off, hissing and panting all the while. The warrior stood still, not even looking at her any longer. Hawkfrost now kept his limpid orbs on the ground, staring at nothing.

The medicine cat eyed him warily from a good distance. He was acting rather peculiar-even for himself. Leafpool crouched slightly, wondering what he was now planning to do. She was lucky that she didn't flinch when he slid those icy pools toward her.

"What is it?" she asked heatedly-trying to guise her fright with fury.

Hawkfrost watched her closely, as though he was the interrogator and she the intruder. The young warrior seemed to have lost the sudden spark and the fact he was invading in on her home. It remained the same when he leapt into the air.

Leafpool saw him jump and her fur immediately fluffed up, more from fear than the expectance of battle. To her surprise, the tom only landed gracefully in front of her face, his breath too close to the fur on her neck; his breath was warm however, and with his body so near, she could smell a more tantalizing, spicy aroma wafting into her nose from his fur.

She would admit it-to herself if no one else.

Crowfeather held a special place in her heart, and he always would, considering all they've done to gain what they shared and more.

This tom-her enemy and son of Tigerstar-was unlike any other cat

she met. It still doesn't change what they were planning however; and with that, she swatted his face from hers, making sure to release her claws.

Hawkfrost hissed in pain; those sharp claws did nothing more than scathe the surface of his fur but it did cause a jolt of pain to enter his cheek. He would've asked what that was for but stayed silent.

"You're not supposed to be here," Leafpool quietly warned him again, lowering her golden suns away from those stunning pools of an arctic sky. "If you do not return to your clan immediately, I will call for mine,"

He detected the threat; she despised him as much as he despised her. Was the only reason because she was a kit of Firestar? That's all it was for him. Hawkfrost licked his paw and wiped it on his face before turning without a word.

Under different circumstances, what would be held for them? Leafpool was an intelligent she-cat; does she know of what they were planning? He finds it implausible. The medicine cat couldn't have discovered of his plot to help Tigerstar rid the forest of Firestar.

He had a duty to his own clan and father. She had hers.

That was a similarity; that the two were loyal to their clans like any normal cat. The adoration and need to protect the ones who raised them was another.

If these traits were gone, would they be more?

Hawkfrost hates the fact that he's in love with her-hates it more than anything else in his life-more than his half-brother, more than Firestar.

Being in love with the enemy was completely taboo. And the only way to destroy the bond was to conquer this ridiculous feeling as if it were a battle to be won.

If she didn't conquer his heart first at least…

(All rights go to Anesther on www.fanfiction.net and here is the link- http://www.fanfiction.net/s/4273073/1/Love-is-War)

Leopardstar- Well um Blackstar and Firestar are fighting and Onestar says he knows a way to break it up so yeah

Onestar- Oh Blackstar (Turns on video recording of Blackstar singing Barbie Cat)

Blackstar- WHERE DID YOU GET THAT!!!
